Improving transitions for young people with life-limiting conditions and palliative needs

St Oswald's Hospice, in partnership with NewcastleGateshead Clinical Commissioning Group, is piloting a new service to support young adults aged 16-25 years with life-limiting conditions and the healthcare professionals supporting them.

This will involve the introduction of an annual assessment clinic for young adults and facilitate closer working relationships between the Hospice and GPs to support patient care.

The new service aims to support young adults with palliative care needs throughout and following transition from children's services and improve the young adults' confidence in and willingness to engage with their GPs.
